

Hello! This random words article will be special, because I will be ranking a good 26 words from worst to best! Was 20 or 25 words my previous record? I think so, not sure. I don't think I've ever done 27 random words anyway, as that's the age that is associated with lots of people dying. Why would I celebrate that? Whatever the case, let's get this obscure-numbered article started! :O

26th: Notorious

What I don't like about this word is that it's just so easy to be notorious. Say you want to say 'thank you' to someone, (you know where this is going) but at the same time funk music is playing in the background and you have muddy shoes (shoes with yuck on them). What happens when you subconsciously fuse thank, funk and yuck together? Infamy. The tragedy is that you actually meant well!

25th: Deprivation

Deprivation is arguably not as bad as telling someone you like to (expletive) off in a rainy, outdoors music concert with catchy hooks and jazzy chords (Emaj9 is a good example), but... how would you buy nice things??

24th: Lose

Losing sounds bad, but at least if you lose something you had something in the first place. Not like deprived people. And the poor guy at the concert has little chance of recovering, as tragically he said eff off to his boss. Well he did in my mind. The next time you listen to the Red Hot Chilli Peppers, you will no doubt be filled with anxiety.

23rd: Tear

Is that tear as in cry or tear as in rip? Whatever the case, I like neither so it doesn't matter. I once tore an AC/DC album cover by accident and I hated it.

22nd: Minor

Give me proper portions!

22nd: Morsol

I've just said, give me a proper portion!!

20th: Core

Armored Core on the PS1 was pretty good and the more modern version looks amazing. Apple cores on the other hand don't really do anything for me whatsoever. They don't look nice, they don't taste nice, and whilst they may be sweet for a while, if you don't refrigerate them (why would you, really?) the smell isn't going to be nice forever. What makes Armored Core interesting is the fact it doesn't taste of anything (it's just a game) but it's almost as good as pizza! After a lot of pondering, I can't work out how that would be.

19th: Aluminium

A reasonable metal, I guess. It doesn't go off like apples do, but the downside is aluminium is never nutritious. You know what the material is really good for, though? Building huge mechs with massive weapons. Try building a mech out of an apple!

18th: Situation

Some situations are good, others are bad. I'm definitely looking forward to my birthday, it's going to be mega. But sadly most situations are fairly mundane. Right?? Well they are for me. The slices of ham I've just eaten were pretty good, though.

17th: Gesture

17th: Posture

Wow, another two words meaning the same thing... Why do I like postures better than the thought of aluminium mechs and situations on the whole? Well, some postures are very good. For example, someone smiling at you and giving a formidable thumbs up.

15th: Wings

I guess wings are cool, apart from sad wings of destiny, I mean. I'm wondering what they are and why wings would be sad. Also, how would wings be sad? Judas Priest really do have album names that get you thinking.

14th: Trait

What traits do various bands have? An interesting question and one I often ponder on, especially for Metal Rules. You CAN'T be random and non-intellectual for such a serious site. I know because I once asked a similar one if I could write in the style of my own site's music reviews, and I wasn't allowed to. :(

We're half way through this special event, so let's see what the Dominant Egg is up to...

Dominant Egg: Hello, Simon. How are you?

Simon: Not bad, you?

DE: Not bad. Just came back from a party.

Simon: Oh, nice. What kind of party?

DE: It was a rave...

Simon: Oh wow. Who was there?

DE: Radical Ralph...

Simon: Radical Ralph?? The hardest partier in the whole of the United Kingdom??

DE: That's the one. Some say the world...

Simon: Do you know him?

DE: I sure do. We were by far the heaviest drinkers there, it was wild!

Simon: Was the music good?

DE: Yep. Some of the finest hardcore techno the planet has to offer. Then the DJ spotted me and Ralph and he brought us to the stage. There, we could really show everyone our sick dancing moves. It was intense.

Simon: Awesome. Will you be starring in any more films or are you too focused on partying?

DE: I'm working on a college road trip comedy, I play the world's hardest partying egg. I was chosen for the role because that's exactly what I am!

Simon: Well, that sounds fantastic... Good luck!

DE: Thanks! Well... off to a party... Later!

13th: Swop

Means the same as swap, but has a more logical spelling. I like that. I can't remember the last time I swapped something, it could well have been when I was about 7 and swapped some marbles. I guess that was pretty good.

12th: Woman

If I rank this low I'm an asshole, too high and I'm a perv, so let's put it somewhere in the middle.

11th: Veil

Again, I perhaps shouldn't rate this one too highly. It would be odd for me to wear a veil.

10th: Attention

Where would anybody be without attention? There would be no job interviews and therefore no jobs, no medical help if you need it because you couldn't ask, no anything. Yes, I need attention BUT SO DO YOU! :S

9th: Soar

Even better than wings! I'm just saying, there are working wings, there are broken wings, but if you soar high in the sky, you know for a fact your wings are working.

8th: Cunning

Ah cunning ways of annoying Dan. If James is my alter ego, who does Dan represent? Everyone!

7th: Cool

Very important weather for my emotional wellbeing. It's cool outside now, and I'm feelin' fine.

6th: Cook

Yes, please cook me something, it's pretty much all I look forward to. Other than Christmas and birthdays. The latter is less than four weeks away, wahoo! Even better, there will be chefs cooking for me as I will be going for a meal. Now what could possibly be better than that?

5th: Sugar

Sugar! Can't get enough of it.

4th: Ample

Ample sugar, please... The great thing about the word ample, is it's not limited to sugar, like sugar is.

3rd: Agreement

Ah, when people agree with me it's great. It's not a perfect word however, as it suggests that sometimes I have to agree with others. Meh. Having said that, some people have good ideas, like fun ideas for my birthday.

2nd: Anticipation

Boy am I anticipating my birthday!

1st: Park

Thorpe Park is awesome. Maybe I should go on my birthday. As explained a while ago however, I really want to go there on Halloween and if I go twice in the same year, it would get boring. I don't get as excited over car parks, but the one in my local gym isn't bad. Very intuitive to use, unlike some others!

Right! What you've just read may or not have been a record for me, but what I do know is that I'm really looking forward to my birthday. I've said the word 6 times in this monologue alone! What makes the day even more special is the fact I've read 36 is supposed to be one of the best years of your life! I'm guessing it will consist of me sitting by my computer and me eating pizza, but that's good, too. And on that happy note... Bye!
